Issue 3 2025/26

Headteacher's message

Dear Parents and Carers,
It has been another busy and positive week at Wrekin View. Children are really beginning to settle into their new classes and it has been wonderful to see their enthusiasm for learning and the new friendships already forming. Our school feels full of energy and curiosity, which is just how we like it.

As with every September, the return to school has also brought with it the usual mix of back-to-school germs. This has led to a few short-term illnesses for both children and staff. Thank you for your patience and understanding while we have managed some temporary changes; we anticipate being back into our regular staffing routine very soon.

School photos

I also want to say a heartfelt thank you, and an apology, for your patience during school photos this week. We hadn't quite anticipated how the increased number of families, alongside working with a new photographer, would affect timings. This meant things took longer than usual, and I know it caused some delays; we are sorry for the inconvenience caused. We are also truly grateful for the good humour and understanding shown by parents on the day. We have reflected on the experience, learnt valuable lessons, and will make adjustments to ensure things run much more smoothly in the future. As always, your support makes a huge difference to our whole school community – thank you.

Mrs Atherton

Please see below for some of our new pupil groups for this year. The children were voted into these roles after creating their posters and delivering speeches to their classes. Well done to all of the children who were successful and well done to all of the children who put themselves forward. It was a brave thing to do and we are proud of all of you. Next week I will share the names of the Sports Council and Play leaders.

ATTENDANCE UPDATE

Good Afternoon

Good attendance at school plays a key role in building strong and lasting friendships. When students attend regularly, they have more opportunities to interact with their peers, join in group activities, and be part of shared experiences that help friendships grow.

Being present consistently means others can rely on you, which builds trust—a vital part of any friendship. It also allows students to develop social skills, like teamwork, communication, and empathy, through daily interactions.

When someone is often absent, they might miss out on inside jokes, group projects, or important moments that bring classmates closer together. Over time, this can make it harder to feel included or connected. On the other hand, students who show up regularly are more likely to feel part of the group, be invited to join in, and form bonds that go beyond the classroom.

Good attendance shows commitment—not just to learning, but to being part of a community. And when students feel like they belong, friendships flourish.

So, turning up each day isn't just about lessons—it's about being there for your friends, sharing memories, and building relationships that can last a lifetime.

Miss Stephenson

We love our Learning

Wrekin Giants and Mighty Giants have had lots of fun adventures this week. Take a look at what they have been up to....

Four of our Y6 children joined a group from across the Trust on an outdoor adventurous walk to Sheinton on Tuesday. The children had a great time, doing map work and compass skills, pond dipping, den / shelter making, identifying different trees, leaves, berries, fruit and learning about nature. They also saw horses, ponies, sheep, cows, alpacas, donkeys and goats. The children all worked together well and all schools worked in mixed groups. Well done all.

Last week, five children from Year 6 and five children from Year 4 represented Wrekin View at the Learning Community Trust Crown Green Bowls event at The Charlton Bowling Club. It was our first sporting event of the year and absolutely brilliant by all accounts.
